

Remote Work Policy

This document governs remote and hybrid work arrangements for all departments. Effective January 2026, supersedes prior informal arrangements.

1. Eligibility

Remote work is available to employees who have completed their probation period and hold a role that does not require physical presence, such as roles involving lab equipment, secure hardware, or in-person client support.

2. Approval Process

Remote work requires prior written approval from the employee's reporting manager, submitted through the HR portal at least three business days in advance. Standing or recurring remote work arrangements must be reviewed and re-approved every quarter.

3. Frequency Limits

Employees approved for remote work may work from home up to two days per week. Requests for additional remote days require approval from both the reporting manager and the department head, and are granted only in exceptional circumstances.

4. Equipment and Connectivity

Employees working remotely must use company-issued laptops and connect via the corporate VPN at all times when accessing internal systems. Personal devices may not be used to access client data under any circumstances.

5. Availability

Remote employees must remain reachable via Slack and email during standard working hours and must attend all meetings with video enabled unless otherwise agreed with their manager.

6. Revocation

Remote work privileges may be revoked at any time if performance concerns arise or if the employee fails to comply with the Information Security Policy while working remotely.
